

Mayor John Lee North Las Vegas

As an Eagle Scout, John Lee began his commitment to public service at a young age. His commitment has continued as he has served on various commissions and boards through elected office.

John's first job was with the Culinary Union as a dishwasher at the Silver Nugget Casino. In 1975, John began working in the plumbing trade, and eventually turned his craft into a successful plumbing company.

In 1996, he was elected to the Nevada State Assembly serving three terms. John was known as a champion of bipartisanship for his commitment to common sense solutions to complex problems. He later served on the Nevada Senate for 8 years, where he served on the committees of Energy, Infrastructure, and Transportation; and was the Chairman of Government Affairs.

In 2007, John was diagnosed with stage IV cancer. His determination to live was based on his understanding that every one of his accomplishments started with his decision to try. After months of agonizing treatment, John successfully won his battle with cancer. To signal the end of his battle, John completed a 10-day, 165 mile hike of the Tahoe Rim.

On April 2, 2013, Lee was elected Mayor of North Las Vegas. His top priorities focus on attracting new businesses to the City, and the expansion and enhancement of North Las Vegas libraries and parks. One of the Mayor's most notable accomplishments was finding and recruiting Faraday Future to build a $1 billion electric car plant at the Apex Industrial site in North Las Vegas. Because of Lee's leadership, Nevada was selected after a national search. The new plant will employ 4,500 workers and have an eventual $87 billion impact on the region.

John and his wife Marilyn have been happily married for 42 years, have seven children and recently celebrated the arrival of their 25th grandchild.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Fellow Rotarians,

I want to begin today's message with a very special thanks to Nancy Slitz for arranging a wonderful weekend at the Shakespeare Festival in Cedar City, Utah! This was a great social outing for the members who attended and I highly recommend attending next time we arrange one of these events.

One of the productions I saw was Mary Poppins which, aside from being exceptionally well done, included a number of powerful messages regarding life in general. One exchange between Mr. Banks (a banker) and his daughter Jane during her visit to the bank jumped out at me as being profound and relevant to Rotary, not to mention an epiphany to Mr. Banks!

Jane was questioning her father, in a direct manner as only a child can do, on how he determined who would qualify for a loan and who would be denied and it went something like this:

Jane: Do you look for good ideas or good people?

Mr. Banks: Well, a good idea is important and can lead to great financial returns, but... I suppose a good man is much rarer so that is where one should place their faith.

As we all know, Rotary in general, and our club in particular is full of good men and women. The power of people like us focusing our efforts on solving problems in the community continues to deliver amazing results! As we wind up the official Membership Month, let's keep seeking those "good people" who we can invite to become members of our fabulous club!

David Thorson
