

Duane Matters

9-11 First Responder

Duane Matters is a Nevada Certified Environmental Manager and the Manager of the Environmental Department of the Las Vegas office of a national geotechnical and environmental consulting firm. Before moving to Las Vegas, he was a project manager at AMEC Earth & Environmental (AMEC) where he worked on large-scale environmental projects such as remediation and assessment of artillery and rocket ranges at the Massachusetts Military Reservation, Cape Cod Massachusetts and various CSX Transportation facilities in Michigan, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania. Prior to his work at AMEC, he worked for several national and regional environmental firms as a project manager.

Mr. Matters has a Bachelors degree in Geological Science from Salem State College in Salem, Massachusetts. He is a Nevada Certified Environmental Manager, Nevada and Utah-licensed Asbestos Consultant and EPA Lead-based Pain Project Designer and Risk Assessor.

While onsite at the WTC from September 2001 through March 2002, Mr. Matters responsibilities included incident command coordination as an EHS and contractor representative at the nightly pre-shift briefing and logistics meetings, ensuring compliance with WTC Site Safety Plan, coordination with subcontractors and incident commanders during recovery operations, updating equipment/material management database, limited oversight of slurry wall drilling operations, Winter Garden stabilization and overseeing a staff of health & safety professionals. Duties also entailed coordinating findings of inspections/observations by OSHA, the New York City Department of Design and Construction, the Mayor's Office of Emergency Management, Liberty Mutual, and other government and contracted agencies and communicating amended work practices to subcontractors. As an "Authorized Photographer" during his months at the WTC, he documented the work progress and the worker's efforts with thousands of photos. Mr. Matters also salvaged project and miscellaneous paperwork to document the unique aspects of this project required to conduct the rescue efforts, as well as excavation, demolition, and removal of building debris. Some of these photos and artifacts have been shown at the Atomic Testing Museum, to officials of the National September 11th Memorial and Museum, and a "pop-up" museum at the Plaza Hotel & Casino during the 10-year "911 Remembrance" activities in Las Vegas.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

On the morning of September 11, 2001, I failed to turn on the news. After getting ready for work, I loaded my infant son into the back of the car to drop him off at daycare. I was surprised when my sports radio talk show was a news feed. At first they were reporting that a plane had accidentally flown into one of the World Trade Center buildings. When the second plane hit my surprise quickly turned to a mix of shock, sorrow and outrage as I realized that this was not an accident, but a terrorist attack on New York City. I also distinctly remember being thankful that my son was too young to comprehend what was happening.

When I got to work we gathered in a conference room and watched the news. We also surfed news stories on the internet to try and learn as much as we could about the attacks. As we watched the day unfold and the towers fall, we became more and more silent, contemplating the fate of the thousands of innocent people who had been murdered. I didn't know who we were at war with, but I knew that a state of war existed.

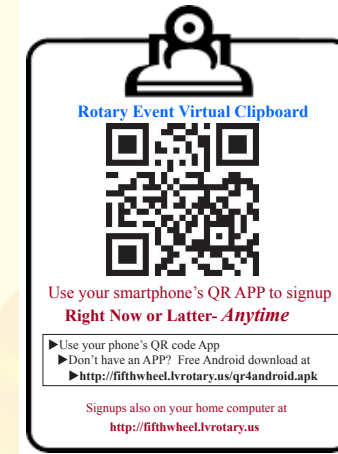

In the weeks and months that followed I watched as Americans adorned their neighborhoods, towns and businesses with American flags. I was impressed by how quickly we transformed from a confederation of loosely overlapping interests into a country mobilized for war and singularly focused on defeating our enemy. During that time I came to understand the impact of Pearl Harbor on our country and what it must have been like in December of 1941. Although almost two decades have passed, my memories of that day and time remain vivid. We must never forget what happened.

James A. Kohl

OPEN WORLD PROGRAM

Friday, Rotarians from Las Vegas along with Rotarians from Kingman, hosted a delegation of six medical professionals from the Ukraine as part of the Open World program. After picking them up at the airport and feeding them lunch, they toured the UMC Trauma unit and then UNLV Medical School. From there they went shopping for a while followed by a tour of Fremont Street. The delegation was home hosted in the homes of local Rotarians for the night. Saturday they left for Kingman where they are hosted for a week. They have many professional and social activities planned for them and I'm sure it'll be a great week. What a great delegation, professional, kind and friendly. It was our pleasure to play a small role in the program and help out our fellow Rotarians from Kingman.
