MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

For this week's message, I wish to discuss in more detail a great way for our members to become involved in more action at the international level. At the Hamburg convention, I attended a breakout session where I learned about Rotary Action Groups. Taken directly from rotary.org, "Rotary Action Groups are international groups of Rotarians, family members, program participants, and alumni who are experts in a particular field or passionate about topics such as microcredit, peace, the environment, or water."

"Group members collaborate with clubs and districts on service projects by offering their technical expertise or helping them find partners, funding, and other resources. RAGs (Rotary Action Groups) can also help clubs prepare grant applications, conduct community assessments, raise funds, and establish monitoring and evaluation plans." As I was listening intently to the presentation, I immediately thought of "Rotary Connects the World" our theme for this Rotary year.

There is a group directory on the RI website, so members can look up groups with interests and a focus that resonates with that member. Groups focus in the areas of promoting peace, fighting disease, providing clean water and sanitation, saving mothers and children, supporting education/literacy, growing local economies, and RAGS with a multiple focus.

Rotary Action Groups function independently of Rotary Clubs, establishing their own rules, fee structure, and administration. Membership is open to all Rotarians, their families and alumni, but the groups must still be in compliance with Rotary International By Laws and operate in accordance with Rotary.

Rotary Action Groups give members the opportunity to become involved with meaningful service outside the local club, district or country. Partnering with a RAG can benefit clubs and districts by utilizing experts in planning and implementing a project.

There is a downloadable brochure on rotary.org which lists the current RAGs and how to contact them for more information. Don't see what you are looking for? The brochure describes how to start a Rotary Action Group. New RAGS need the approval of the RI Board of Directors.

An example of one of the RAGS in action: Rotarians for Family Health and AIDS Prevention, sponsors an annual event to provide health care services including HIV testing and counseling to thousands of people in hundreds of sites across Africa. There is a Rotary Action Group focusing on literacy. Upon going to their website, www.litrag.org, I learned that over 776 million people over 15 are illiterate. That is 17% of the world's population. While our club mission statement focuses on children, the site has a specific program called Rotary TEACH an acronym for Teacher support, e Learning, Adult Literacy, Child Development and Happy Schools. This is one area, there are 5 other areas of focus with children as a centerpiece!

I urge any of you who may be looking to become involved in an ongoing International Project, to take a look and see what Rotarians around the world are doing and join in!
