MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Many times throughout your life, you might find yourself in analysis paralysis asking the question, "Should I do something about this?"

For most successful people, the answer is usually "Yes."

One of the world's fastest growing and most valuable companies, Amazon, lists "bias for action" as one of its key leadership principles.

Within two decades, this bookseller has become a competitor of every single industry leader across retail, publishing, logistics, wireless, toys, devices, apparel and cloud computing. The company's influence is pervasive.

Having a "Bias for Action" can benefit each of us individually, within our families, our businesses and our Rotary Club experience.

People with a bias for action get involved, embrace change and are willing to take risks.

Don't wait for perfect conditions to get things done. Don't let what you can't do hinder what you can do. A greater portion of success is showing up. Starting, no matter how little, puts you on the path to accomplishment.

Woody Allen said, "80 percent of success is just showing up." I have come to know that is true.

Rotary members share a unique passion for taking action to improve their communities and the world. It is one of the things that has inspired me and tied me to our club. Rotary's programs to fight disease, grow impoverished communities, promote peace and support education are making a difference throughout the world.

This fall our Rotary calendars are filled with many wonderful activities. Take the time to show up, serve and provide comfort or fellowship. Rotary is always in need of helpers in many ways. If there is an opening or a need, fill it.

I know from personal experience that action creates satisfaction. There is something truly fulfilling in helping others and feeling like your actions are making a positive difference in the world. That's why people who assist those in need and give back to others and their communities tend to be happier. In addition, they also tend to have higher self-esteem and general psychological well-being.

I encourage all of us to have a bias for action and get involved. Together we will make the world a better place and be happier while we are at it.

Mike

BULLET TRAIN TO LA

Last week's guest speaker, Greta Seidman, who directs public affairs activities for Brightline West, gave us a very informative update of the future of the Bullet Train to LA. She talked about the success of the project in Florida and what to expect here in Las Vegas within the next seven years.

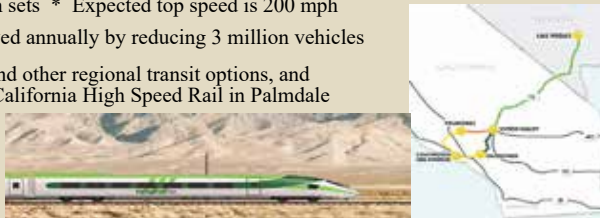

Brightline West is a shovel ready high-speed rail project and is poised to bring economic and environmental benefits to the Southern Nevada. It will utilize fully electric, zero emission trains to connect Las Vegas and Los Angeles through multiple intercity projects. It is expected to carry more than 11 million passengers annually.

Guests departing Las Vegas will have fast and convenient access to all of the Greater Los Angeles area from station points in the Victor Valley, Rancho Cucamonga and Palmdale with direct access via California Metrolink to key points in Los Angeles, such as Union Station.

Brightline Holdings has achieved a significant milestone with the successful acquisition of a 110-acre parcel on Las Vegas Blvd. that will serve as the future Las Vegas home for Brightline West. Plans are currently being developed for the terminal station, which will encompass 65,000 square feet of building area and include many innovative amenities for travelers, including ample parking and connections to various ground transportation systems – both existing and planned.

KEY FACTS

- * Expected travel time is approx. 3 hours * Route is 2x faster than driving
- * Zero-emission, electric train sets * Expected top speed is 200 mph
- * 400,000 tons of CO2 removed annually by reducing 3 million vehicles
- * Connections to Metrolink and other regional transit options, and planned future connection to California High Speed Rail in Palmdale
